I am a truck driver who predominantly deliver office furniture into major cities in the usa. I use my XM traffic reports to plan my routing. The trucking industry has a bad enough time overcomming its bad image, it only makes things worse when the regular motoring public sees a transport tractor trailer envolved in a traffic slow down. No matter what, even when the trucker stops to make sure everybody is alive and okay, the news and traffic report will undoubtedly say; "there's a traffic problem on the BQE envolving a tractor trailer...". I use my XM Radio traffic reports to plan my route around these problem areas and keep my customers happy. Thank-you for inviting my my input to help make this important decision. andrew schneider
